A clear view of the results, evidence, and recommended next steps.

Prepared September 23, 2026

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

North led regional revenue while Laptop Pro was the strongest product. Growth was concentrated in a small number of segments, so the next step is to validate whether the pattern is repeatable.

01

Key findings

- 01 North generated INR 15.81L and contributed the largest share of regional revenue.
- 02 Laptop Pro generated INR 19.79L, making it the strongest product in the displayed comparison.
- 03 March 2026 was the highest-revenue month, indicating a period worth investigating for repeatable drivers.
- 04 Revenue is concentrated in a few segments, so performance should be monitored alongside order volume and margin.

02

Recommended next steps

- 1 Review the product and customer mix behind North region performance, then test the strongest combination in one comparable region.
- 2 Compare March campaigns, order volume, and pricing with surrounding months before increasing spend.
- 3 Track revenue, margin, and repeat purchases together so growth decisions are based on profitable demand.
